PLANS FOR NEW K. P. BUILDING COMPLETED

The plans and specifications for the big new Knights of Pythias building at the corner of Fourth and Columbia streets, have been finished by Architect Sam G. Ward and were turned over today to Fred W. Stocking of the building committee. A lodge meeting will be held tonight in the Elks club when the plans will be looked over and discussed and a call for bids at a date in the near future issued. The plans call for a two-story cement and stone building, with store rooms on the ground floor and beautiful lodge rooms above. The building will cost in the neighborhood of $11,000.
