WALT WIDMEYER - PRINCIPAL

Education: Graduate of University of Washington, receiving a degree of Bachelor of Architecture, 1949

Registration: Licensed in 1951 to practice architecture in the State of Washington

Total Years of Experience: Private practice of architecture - 26 years
Other firms - 8 years

EXPERIENCE SUMMARY

- 1949 - 1953      Employed as draftsman and job captain for Donald Dwight Williams, Architect, Seattle
- Experience in design of custom residences, light industrial and small commercial buildings. Worked as consultant for Army Engineers and Bureau of Reclamation in Central Washington
- 1953 - 1958      Staff Architect for Douglas Fir Plywood Association, Tacoma, Washington. Involved with development of the use of plywood as structural components in roof, wall and floor systems. During these years the Association was largely responsible for the development of vaulted and folded plate roofs, stressed skin panels and low cost components construction; also with the "second home" program for development of low cost housing for vacation use and for those with retirement incomes.
- 1958 - Present      Continuous practice of architecture in private and public building projects.
