Attractive Sand Point Country Club Residence Blends With Site

By MARGERY R. PHILLIPS

The new William Carter home in Sand Point Country Club is a fine example of domestic architecture that blends with the site and the weather. A clever handling of levels and landscaping devices characterizes the house.

THURON C. SHANNON, architect, created an atmosphere of ease and beauty for these garden level and basement, the green concrete and stone, which are their basic materials, were used to create a sense of continuity of the split level and stone. The split level allowed a level of view which encompasses the view of the lake and the mountains and the view of the lake and the mountains.

The split level allowed for a split level entry which has been built into the hillside and is reached by a set of stairs. The entry is reached by a set of stairs. The entry is reached by a set of stairs.

OPEN HOUSE: New ideas, new materials, individual details, and beautiful colors always are plentiful in a house designed by Thome, Dunham, architect. The William Carter Sand Point Country Club home, 8039 Lakeland Drive, is a distinctive plan for its purpose and provides a fabulous setting for its owner, "Marjorie" and "Bud" Carter, architect, and Kubie Carter, architect.
