Title: Crew Chief
Date: October 2, 2019
Location: Lacey, WA

Statistical Research, Inc. (SRI), a cultural resources management (CRM) consulting firm, provides comprehensive CRM services to private and government clients at the federal, state, and local levels throughout the western United States from offices in Washington, New Mexico, Arizona, and California. SRI has one (1) temporary, hourly position available for an archaeological Crew Chief headquartered from SRI's Lacey, WA office.

Minimum qualifications and Experience:

The ideal candidates should possess, at minimum, a Bachelor's degree (Master's degree preferred) in Archaeology, Anthropology, or a related field and have completed an accredited archaeological field school. Candidates must also have a minimum of 3 years of field experience working on and/or supervising monitoring, survey, testing, and data recovery projects and be physically fit and able to perform physically demanding tasks in adverse environmental conditions. Candidates should also have good organizational skills, a positive attitude, strong work ethic, and willingness to learn and execute new tasks.

Job Description:

The crew chief is responsible for assisting project directors in implementing survey, testing, monitoring, and data recovery plans and for coordinating through the appropriate channels all field and analytic tasks associated with fieldwork, analysis, and report preparation. Additionally, crew chiefs are often responsible for writing descriptive sections of reports.

Pay rates are based on individual qualifications and experience, and fieldwork is anticipated to last 6 - 8 weeks.

How To apply

Applications should be submitted via e-mail to srijobs@sricrm.com with "Crew Chief-Lacey, Washington" referenced in the subject line, and should include a resume of relevant experience and references (with contact information, including email addresses and telephone numbers). Applications will be accepted until the positions are filled and only applications submitted via srijobs@sricrm.com will be considered.